Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning glass of hot water. The acid of the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The acid of the hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the hot water and limestone phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, others who have yellow skin, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside bathing before breakfast.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

Rub pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer. Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness are gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

LOS ANGELES LEADS IN LEMON.

Los Angeles is the banner lemon country; it has an area of 5844 acres of bearing trees. San Diego county takes second place from Orange county by a margin of 16 acres; the report gives San Diego county 5828 acres and Orange county 5844 acres. San Bernardino county has 5800 acres of producing lemon trees, and Riverside county has 5800 acres.

The acreage in the State devoted to raising lemons is rapidly diminishing. Los Angeles county is credited with 15,000 acres of lemons, but with no acreage devoted to new culture. This county has more than one-third the berry acreage of the State.

San Clara county comes again with the banner cherry crop. In that county 1875 acres are devoted to yielding fruit. There are 916 acres of young non-bearing trees. San Joaquin county is second with 1800 acres of bearing trees. Cherries are raised almost wholly in Northern and Central California.

Figs are also a Northern and Central California product. The trees yield well in Southern California, but there are a number of other fruits that give a much greater return for the money invested. Fresno county,

PIN THEIR FAITH ON REPUBLICANS.

California Fruit Men Hopeful of a C.O.P. Victory.

Stake All Their Wealth on Prospects for Future.

Acres of Trees Planted in State Greatly Increases.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9.—California's citrus fruit growers are apparently staking their wealth and their prospects for future material prosperity on their faith that this year's national election will return to power a Republican President and a Congress pledged to the protection of American industries.

The acreage of new lemon trees in the State is shown by the advance sheets of the report of the State Horticultural Commission to be only two hundred acres less than that of the present bearing crop. The actual figures are 18,442 acres now bearing and a non-bearing acreage of 18,323. It is another instance of hope's triumph over experience, for the average price at which lemons sold in the auction market in New York last year was about 10 cents a box less than the cost of placing the fruit on the ears in California. This was due to a Democratic tariff.

ORANGE MEN OPTIMISTIC.

Orange growers are equally optimistic; the annual report shows that there are 55,527 acres of young non-bearing orange trees in California. This year's orange crop, roughly estimated at $5,000 cars, will be gathered from 11,254 acres of bearing orange trees. One of the surprises revealed in the report is the increased acreage of orange trees in Tulare county. That county now has an producing area of 18,742 acres, an increase of 22,546 acres of young trees. The total is the greatest in the State. San Bernardino county still leads in actual production; it has 35,000 acres of producing trees, supplemented by 7717 acres of young nonbearing trees. Los Angeles county is second in the acreage of bearing orange trees.

PEACH IS QUEEN.

Notwithstanding the vast extent of the orange area, however, the peach is still queen in California. The producing acreage of peach lands is estimated at 112,734 acres. Santa Clara County is the patron saint of the boarding-house keepers; 18,404 acres of land in that county are devoted exclusively to peach culture. This is the largest acreage of any county in the State devoted to the culture of a single fruit.

Butte and Kern counties tie in the production of olives; each has an estimated area of 1900 acres. But Butte will soon force ahead as that county has 35,000 acres of producing nonbearing olive trees, while Los Angeles county has but 200 acres.

Fresno is the banner peach country with 35,000 acres of producing trees; this is greater than that of any other four counties in the State. San Bernardino leads the southern counties with 5700 acres bearing trees.

PEARS INCREASING.

Pear acreage is showing a rapid increase; the bearing area is 17,779 acres, while 19,449 acres are planted in young nonbearing trees. Sacramento county leads here, with 5000 acres of bearing and 2000 acres of nonbearing pear trees.

Plumas are almost exclusively a central and eastern California crop. Placer county leads with 5500 acres of bearing trees.

Orange county leads all the rest in the production of walnuts. It has a bearing area of 12,000 acres and a nonbearing area of 1900 acres. Los Angeles county is second with 8900 acres and Ventura county is third with 5664 acres.

San Clara county is the apple-checked maiden of them all, with her 15,000 acres of bearing trees. San Bernardino county threatens to be a dangerous rival, as the annual report gives to that county a non-bearing area of 6500 acres. The high plateau and mountain sides of San Bernardino county are said to be especially adapted to apple culture.

San Clara is also first in the production of apricots. Its area is estimated at 8431 acres. Alameda county is second with 5333 acres; Riverside county is third with 5000 acres of apricots, having 5484 acres of producing trees, but it is first in the non-bearing area with its 3223 acres. This indicates that apricot culture has received a new impetus in Riverside county.

The acreage in the State devoted to raising lemons is rapidly diminishing. Los Angeles county is credited with 15,000 acres of lemons, but with no acreage devoted to new culture. This county has more than one-third the berry acreage of the State.

San Clara county comes again with the banner cherry crop. In that county 1875 acres are devoted to yielding fruit. There are 916 acres of young non-bearing trees. San Joaquin county is second with 1800 acres of bearing trees. Cherries are raised almost wholly in Northern and Central California.

Figs are also a Northern and Central California product. The trees yield well in Southern California, but there are a number of other fruits that give a much greater return for the money invested. Fresno county,

PIN THEIR FAITH ON REPUBLICANS.

Acres of Trees Planted in State Greatly Increases.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 9.—California's citrus fruit growers are apparently staking their wealth and their prospects for future material prosperity on their faith that this year's national election will return to power a Republican President and a Congress pledged to the protection of American industries.

The acreage of new lemon trees in the State is shown by the advance sheets of the report of the State Horticultural Commission to be only two hundred acres less than that of the present bearing crop. The actual figures are 18,442 acres now bearing and a non-bearing acreage of 18,323. It is another instance of hope's triumph over experience, for the average price at which lemons sold in the auction market in New York last year was about 10 cents a box less than the cost of placing the fruit on the ears in California. This was due to a Democratic tariff.

ORANGE MEN OPTIMISTIC.

Orange growers are equally optimistic; the annual report shows that there are 55,527 acres of young non-bearing orange trees in California. This year's orange crop, roughly estimated at $5,000 cars,

PROMISED SESSSIONS NEVER TALKED

TALE NEVER TO BE TOLD.

THE tangled story of friendship, love and bitterness woven into the $75,000 damage suit of Earl G. Hamlin against Police Lieutenant David L. Adams will not be told. The series of events which Mr. Hamlin declares cost him his wife's life, the death of Mrs. Hamlin occurring last October, will not be made the sport of a court of law for yesterday the attorneys for Mr. Hamlin and Lieut. Adams filed a dismissal of the action in the County Clerk's office. Today the suit was to have been tried.

The attorneys pledged themselves not to give out the terms of the settlement. It is understood that a sum of money passed, covering the costs and expenses of the suit. From the fact that the charge of alienating the affections of Mrs. Hamlin and charges of misconduct were without foundation.

He stated that he was friendly with both Mr. Hamlin and his wife, and that both came to him with the request that he assist them in effecting a reconciliation when they had quarreled. He said he advised them the best he could.

The story leading up to the filing of the alienation suit goes back to the childhood of Velma Windish, who became Mrs. Hamlin. She knew David L. Adams. When he became a man he moved from the neighborhood. Two years ago Mrs. Adams came to Los Angeles with her husband. One day she saw Lieut. Adams on a street car. She introduced herself, and they became friends. The old friends they knew there a new friend appeared. Mrs. Hamlin in his complaint stated he observed a coolness on the part of his wife, coming from that meeting on the street car. His wife's affection continued to wane until a crisis was reached in April, 1918. It was at this time that an alleged emotional storm furnished Mr. Hamlin with material for his complaint. He charged his wife and Lieut. Adams with going on a reckless trip to a neighboring town, accompanied by three patrolmen and two other women. The party passed the night in the town, said to have been San Bernardino.

Mr. Hamlin said that he first began to doubt the good intentions of Lieut. Adams when he attempted to learn why he over the woman who had won his wife's love. He believed in his own behalf, and he says, witnessed a scene that left no doubt in his mind that the lieutenants were angry and hating. The notoriety of the suit was not pleasant. Its dismissal yesterday closes the chapter.

Strong, Though Sometimes Inconvenient.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read lately, in your important paper, some beautiful stories contributed by Associated Press correspondents or gentlemen connected with the Carranzista de facto government of Mexico, in regard to the Mexican situation.

Some of those stories are that the Governors of certain States are earnestly calling to Mexico, Mexican exiles to deliver them their confiscated property by former Villa officers; that the Carranza government is sending to the United States hundreds of students to learn or study American systems of education to implant them in Mexico; that Villa was surrounded by a triangle of Carranzista forces and his capture expected hourly; that the capital of Mexico is to be transferred to the small and historic town of Dolores Hidalgo, in Guanajuato, and all Federal buildings at the old capital are to be sold for the sum of $15,000,000, with which amount the new capital will be built; a new capitol like the Washington Capitol, to be erected; that sanitary conditions in all Mexico are improving; that railroads, commerce and industry are coming back to normal conditions; and finally that constitutional law and order will prevail in all Mexico.

Censorship is rigidly enforced on the other side of the line, so the gentlemen of the Associated Press have only the sweet doom that the other gentlemen of the Constitutionallismo are willing to give out. On the other hand, it is a well-known fact that a number of American newspaper men have taken sides in the Mexican trouble, not in a very disinterested way. Some of this association is the famous accusation that General Madero, brother of the late President Madero, gave to the Mexican Congress a bill regarding the $750,000 paid to him by Carranza for his retirement, on pressure of his brother, for his expenses in the Mexican revolution of 1911. One item of said accountancy was $11,000,000 in El Paso (Tex.) Press, $12,000 . . .

So the contributions of the Associated Press correspondents, generally, are false news given to the gentlemen of the constitutionallismo; and the statements of the latter are always lacking in truth, and, above all, decency.

By example the story of the devotion of the confiscated properties by General "Trator and fanatic Villa" (great general of the Carranzistas) to the gentlemen that denigrate him now, nearly two years ago,) is entirely untrue. Enriquez, Governor of Chihuahua, has changed his conclusion of the confiscated properties, he now changed his mind, and is retaining them from the enemies of the cause, "not for peace."

In the State of Sonora there is a regular government department, called "seccion de administracion de bienes confiscados," (section of administration of absent people property.) This section has offices in all towns and cities of the State. All the properties of absent persons have been confiscated, the owner as "cientifico" or enemy of the revolution; and the most impudent fact is that the government is trying to collect taxes on said confiscated property from the owners.

F. Elias Calles, Governor of Sonora, has issued a decree, increasing the tax on lands and city property to $20 per $1000; the valuation of the property, left, of course, to the government official; as the liquidation of the property brings the immediate possession by the government, and a fine of fifty times the assessed tax.

Not being sufficient that confiscatory decree, Calles, on January 27, ultimo, issued another, openly ordering the cancellation of all the debts, annuities and pensions of the enemies and confiscate property.

Salaries and payments of the government are made in Carranzista paper money, which is worth 4 ca. gold the peso; all taxes and payables to the government must be made in silver coin and by special grace in U. S. Cy., at the rate of $6 ca. gold the peso.

In regard to the other stories, passengers coming out from Mexico and exiled people, tell the truth, about about them; that Carranza's men are killed and executed; respect for human life is lost at all; every day some town is raided by bandits, a garrión revolts because they don't want to be paid with Carranzista paper money. Villa is still at large, holding up trains and executing his former officials like Tomasa Gruesler, head of commerce and industry are absolutely trampled; the transfer of the capital from Mexico City to Dolores Hidalgo is a little fanciful affair; get from some American syndicate $50,000,000. And now that Wall Street has refused to finance Mr. Carranza the most terrible and bloody chaos is in sight.

When the gentlemen of the Constitutionallismo contribute long articles saying that hundreds of teachers have been sent or are going to be sent to the United States to study American systems of education and implant them in Mexico; that they are going to build a new capital like Washington, with a Capitol like yours, I believe that you gentlemen smile, because with no money, no media, no ability but for destroy, plunder and murder, great things cannot be made; education costs millions, capitals and capitals also, and the gentleman of the Constitutionallismo have only a paper money worth 4 ca. the peso to live, perhaps nothing tomorrow, and the property of the honest people of Mexico, who worked years and years for acquire it, which is not sufficient for their most urgent needs.

I have considered The Times for many years a fair publication; I will be greatly glad if you publish this little part of the truth of Mexico, as fair as because it will contribute to carry on the public opinion of your country mislabeled by the exhilarant names of the gentlemen of the Constitutionallismo and of the Associated Press. You will help your countrymen with this because they, knowing the real situation in Mexico, will refrain of going into that country to expose their lives and property, and you will help the poor Mexican innocent people, which is suffering hungry and misery by the fault of a few ones, among them your President, Mr. Wilson.

American on the border and newspaper men had told the truth time ago, in regard to the Mexican affairs, regardless their personal interests. I believe the American public opinion had forced long time ago your government to take the proper course in Mexico.

Respectfully yours,
J. REAL.

All cancelling and postmarking stamps used in the Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach and Pomona postoffices during the year will bear the statement, "Panama-California Exposition, San Diego, 1916," according to word received here yesterday from Congressman Randall, who fathered the plan to advertise the Southland, to show through the medium of the many millions of letters mailed or received at these offices.

The flood situation will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the City Club, in the Men's Grill of the Broadway Department Store, at 12:15 o'clock. The compensation and policy of the association will be told by A. W. Fry, vice-president of the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association; J. B. The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from Judge Harry Olson, Chief Justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago, advising that upon receipt of a telegram from the chamber he had decided to accept the invitation of the California State conference on social agencies to address their meeting, which convenes in Los Angeles May 1, to 5, next.

Seaman's Act Referendum.

Some time ago the Chamber of Commerce took action in opposition to the La Follette seaman's bill. The matter is again before the chamber in the form of referendum No. 12, providing for amendment of the bill more satisfactory to the shippers, as submitted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The board of directors at the meeting yesterday again referred this question to the chamber's Committee on Commerce for consideration and report.

Dr. J. T. Miller will address the brotherhood at a dinner to be given at Hotel Clark at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. His subject will be "Character Building."

The new officers of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew for the ensuing year are as follows: S. B. Robinson, president; Collin Gair, vice-president; Norman Keleh, secretary; Morton A. Allen, field secretary; C. J. Walker, treasurer; R. B. Kirchoffer, district vice-president; E. D. Williams, chairman entertainment committee, and A. M. Culver, chairman publicity.

The weekly Sabbath services will be held at St. Andrew's church, 1111-1113 Broadway, at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning at 9:30. Dr. Linn's discourse in the evening will be "Consecration," and in the morning it will be "Atonement." The musical services will be rendered by the choir.

What to Do for

Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment.

That one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the Resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put into the form of a resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for over twenty years.

Resinol usually stops itching instantly, healing the eruption quickly, unless it is due to some serious internal disorder. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap can be bought at any drugstore, and are not at all expensive. For free sample, Dept. 6-5, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

For pimples, redness, roughness, itching and irritation, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, red, rough hands and baby rashes, itches and chafings these fragrant soap-creamy emollients are wonderful. They are also splendid for nursery and toilet purposes.

With 30-35 Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. 17, Resinol, Baltimore, Md."

Are These Pictures of the Same Woman?

Mrs. Zolla Keech (top); Mrs. Zola Rapey.

In the picture below, which is a Rogers' Gallery portrait of the woman accused of grand larceny, the hat and fur of Mrs. Keech have been arbitrarily put on in order that the setting for the two faces may be the same in making the comparison. If the two pictures are cut out and laid one on top of each other against a window pane it will be seen that the features superimpose.

STAGE CLASSIC ON SCREEN.

Pearl White never appeared to better advantage than in "Hazel Kirke," the famous old stage classic, which in photoplay form is attracting much attention at the Alhambra this week. This is charming Miss White's first appearance in big feature plays, and her portrayal of the heroine in the dramatic story is exceptionally fine. She is ably supported by Creighton Hale, William Riley Hatch, Bruce McHale, and other screen favorites. "A Parisian Romance," with H. Cooper Cliffe as Baron Chevalier, is announced for next week.

GUILTY; LIGHT FINE.

In Judge Tripper's court yesterday W. E. Lower, who was charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with the sale of tickets of the Guadalajara Lottery Company, with offices in San Francisco, pleaded guilty and was fined $10. Lower was a witness for the government in the J. D. De Veckman case that was consulted by United States District Judge Bean some months ago, and the amount of fine was recommended by Assistant United States District Attorney Moody.

Must Clear Name.

rarily halted yesterday, when Mrs. Keech retired into obscurity and refused to be seen. Mrs. Keech on Tuesday received $10,000 from Attorney Comerford after she had signed away her claims on her husband and on her baby. That Mrs. Keech could have had $50,000 or more from the estate of her father-in-law for the mere asking was the statement of Mr. Comerford. That she at first refused any financial settlement on herself in favor of her son was the assertion of Attorney John W. Luter, representing Mrs. Keech. Mr. Luter refused to confirm or deny that Mrs. Keech is Mrs. Rapey. He stated that at the proper time this question would be taken care of.

ESCHEW STAGE. "Mrs. Keech will not go on the stage," the attorney declared. "I want to say for the woman that she is in a deplorable state of health, and should never have been permitted to talk for publication. She was in a position where she could have secured a sum in excess of $100,000 from the Keech estate had she desired to fight the affair through the courts. She renounced this fortune and accepted $10,000 only on my presenting to her the fact that she could live for the boy only in case her welfare was looked after financially. She refused to go into court because of the charges and counter-charges that would be made, and in later years rise up to injure the son. In every move she has made Mrs. Keech has always put the boy's interests first, and has sacrificed her own. No other consideration could have secured her signature to the paper that gives the child into the custody of Mr. Keech's mother." The divorce action will go on, but in all probability one side or the other will withdraw and allow the decree to be granted.

ROB GAS STATION.

Take Money, Fill Tank of Stolen Car and Drive Off.

Two men in a stolen automobile held up the attendant in a Standard Oil retail station at Mission road and Eastlake avenue yesterday afternoon. Under threat with revolvers, they took $20 from the cash register, filled the tank of their machine with gasoline from the station reservoir, calmly filled the water tank of their motor and drove away.

The machine was identified by its numbers as that stolen from C. G. Lynch, No. 2218 West Twenty-first street, earlier in the afternoon, an expensive touring car. Neither man was masked. One kept the attendant of the oil station cowed in the rear of the station while the other coolly replenished the supplies of the machine and took the money. Then they told their victim to keep still and hurried away. The attendant recorded the numbers on the machine.

Police Raid of a Messenger Service Office Results in the Arrest of Four Men on Suspicion of Conducting Illicit Traffic in Opium.
Suspicions that a downtown messenger headquarters was an active depot for the circulation of drugs, resulted in the raiding of the office of the company yesterday, and the arrest of Tom Kelly, James Hawthorne, John Eagan and Morris Earlick. Capt. Garfield Gillis, a special investigator, discovered evidence of alleged illicit traffic, and assisted the police in making the capture. When Capt. Gillis entered the messenger office to make the arrests one of the men hurled a package into the rear alley. When recovered the package was found to contain several hundred grains of morphine and derivative drugs.
The men's room, at No. 255 South Bunker Hill avenue, also produced an amount of drugs, which the police are holding as evidence against the men.
Capt. Gillis's discovery of the illicit trade followed his investigation when he saw a man lurking near a closed cigar store. The man was preparing to make an entrance, he thought, but was frightened away by pedestrians. Chief Salvary personally complimented Gillis on his work, as the police have been searching for the drug depot for several months.

Games Tonight. Heavyweights—Whittier College at Whittier College; U.S.C. at D.A. Normal; Westlake at Orange A.C. Bantamweights—Pasadena at D.A. A.C.; Whittier at McKinley.

The two basketball games at the club last night proved to all present, by comparison, that football is a game to be played at tea parties, and prize fighting the best sport possible at "coming-out" parties.

The L.A.A.C. teams won two of the roughest games of any kind that have been seen in the south. The lightweights practically clinched the championship in the 146-pound division by defeating the Y.M.C.A. 27 to 12. The heavyweights beat their uphill fight toward the top by routing out Glendale in a game that just lacked being a set fight from the start. Had any body shown a clinch, it was more than likely that there would have been a melee. The final score was 25 to 22.

The big hero of last night was Red Wilson. It was he who went in in the second half of the light-weight game and won it for the club. The score was 11 to 16 in the Y.M.C.A.'s favor at the end of the first half. During the second half, Red Wilson, who never shot a goal from field and made only two foul goals. All the while the red head of Wilson was bobbing in and out among them, dribbling the ball up the court, where either he or somebody else could shoot the basket.

The game was so much Red Wilson that when the Y.M.C.A. players got together at its end to give the victors the customary trophy, they shouted "Red, red, red Wilson!" They were about right.

MORE OF IT. The second game was just a whirlwind of roughness. The Glendale players went to all the tricks of the trade. Wilson's back looked like it had been just freshly and perfectly unburned. It was so red when he stepped for the shot.

During the first half of the game he was knocked flat on his back a hundred times if he was down once. The surprising feature about it all was that Wilson was managing to keep up the Glendale man who knocked him down. The red head was game to the core.

The club was leading at the end of the first half, 12 to 6. The reason for this was that they were paying more attention to teamwork than Glendale. The visitors were thinking too much of getting the man. Lawell was about the only club man really downed rough with first half. He was kneeled early in the game. Every time he looked at the player who did it he got excited—like a bull does when he sees a red flag.

KID HERMAN IS AFTER BANTIES.

BY ORSON WELLS—Special Correspondent. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 10.—Fete "KID" Herman, whose sensational showing against Kid Williams last Monday night has stamped him as the coming heavyweight champion, will leave here within a week for Cincinnati, where he will seek several matches. He will then go to Philadelphia and meet a number of bantams there and then go to New York. Herman has won every one of his last seven fights, two of them by knock-out, the only draw being that with Williams, and sporting writers and the general public agree that Billy Rocap erred when he called the battle a draw.

Remy Dorr, Herman's manager, says he will keep him busy until July, when if the chance comes he will again send Herman against Williams. Williams is going to Hot Springs to recuperate from the severe beating he received.

FATE OF TOM AND MAURICE TREMBLES.

NATIONAL TENNIS BODY WILL CONVEY TOMORROW.

Many Important Questions to be Taken Up.—This Matches will Probably Go to the West Side Club. News that George Ades will succeed Robert Weiss as President.

(BY A. F. MONT WIRE.) NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The awarding of the national championship tournaments, the amendment of the constitution to admit the players of the public parks in large cities to the national championship, and the interpretation of the amateur rule will be the leading business of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, which will begin its session in this city tomorrow.

It is practically settled that the all-comers national championship singles, the challenge match in doubles and the intercollegiate tournament will again be staged at the West Side Club, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or St. Louis. Additional sectional doubles championships will be scheduled for St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Omaha.

The standing of Maurice McLaughlin, Thomas C. Bundy and others in the sporting goods business, in the amateur rule controversy, is likely to be defined at the meeting.

Robert D. Weiss will retire from the presidency and George E. Ades of the Country Club of Westchester, N. Y., will probably be elected in his place.

YALE ATHLETES NOT REINSTATED.

(BY A. F. MONT WIRE.) NEW HAVEN, (Ct.) Feb. 10.—The Executive Committee of the Yale Athletic Association, decided today that the five prominent athletes who withdrew last fall for violating the summer baseball rule cannot represent Yale in sports during the present college year.

The action bars Capt. Milburn of the baseball team; Harry Legore, the football and basketball star, and William Easton, Spencer Dimpally and Robert Rhett, members of the varsity nine.

The five athletes played baseball at Quogue, N. Y., last summer and received great board for a short time. When they discovered that this was in violation of the Yale rules they paid their board for the remainder of the summer and received no pecuniary reward.

While the Executive Committee would not amplify its statement tonight, the opinion is general among prominent undergraduates that the athletes will be eligible next college year. If this interpretation is correct, Legore will be able to play football in the fall.

The action today will necessitate the resignation of Capt. Milburn of the baseball team and it is probable that his successor will be Roland V. Vaughn of Harvard. Easton, an outfielder and former starter.

OLD-TIMERS TO BE BACK AT IT.

Waldo Throop and Jim Donahue Hear Call of Track.

Sports Get Unbreakable Grip on Their Followers.

Tomorrow's Meet will Tell a Sad or Happy Tale.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

Walter Throop, once the greatest sprinter in the South, will try to come back tomorrow. He will run for the L.A.A.C. in the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes at Manual Arts tomorrow.

"Woe Throop is now a member of the club track team," said Bob Weaver last night. "He has promised to sprint for us at Manual. It wouldn't surprise me if the old boy came back with a rush."

On top of this announcement comes another, that Jim Donahue, the all-around athlete, will also try to come back. He will probably pick out the high and low hurdles as his specialty. They were always his favorites.

There must be something in this call of sports to the athletes, sooner or later it claims them and they come up to regain their lost honors. It matters not what the sport is, the call seems to be just as strong.

Jim Jeffries became the most horrible example of the come-back. When old and hog-fat he waddled into the ring at Reno to be almost chopped to pieces. Little Ad Wolcott is fighting around the country and is being beaten to a pulp every day by fourth-raters. Nobody would ever dream that the slow, laboring scrapper was once the champion of the world, the center of all eyes on spring street, and called the "wild cat" when he fought.

Battling Nelson, once called the "Durable," is wandering like a tramp across America, picking up an odd fight in the small out of the way places.

FREDDIE. It was only last summer at the exposition that Fred Thompson, the man who broke Thorpe's all-around mark, heard the call of the spurs again. He came in from the desert and trained for a month. At the meet it was pitiful to see him straining to do something that would have been a joke to him a few years ago.

Last month one of the great long distance swimmers of the United States was drowned while swimming at Portland. The last sentence of the dispatch read: "He was trying to come back."

Even now Gotch, the great and unbeatable wrestler, perhaps the greatest that ever lived, is here, doing what? Getting in condition to come back. Who knows what unknown may throw him? And if it comes it will probably be by some mediocre man.

IN FOOTBALL men like Sid Neighbors, who were great when we were children, are popping up to try again. Neighbors made a valiant effort. He took off seventy pounds getting into condition. He had everything except the old speed that came from youth. And that was just what he needed.

And in baseball how many a great pitcher, doddering into the twilight, is being urged to come back. He is old, he is slow, he is a little shaky, but he is a great pitcher. He is a great pitcher. He is a great pitcher.

Sometimes it is the other way around. Drew is running in the 100-yard dash. He is a great sprinter. He is a great sprinter. He is a great sprinter.

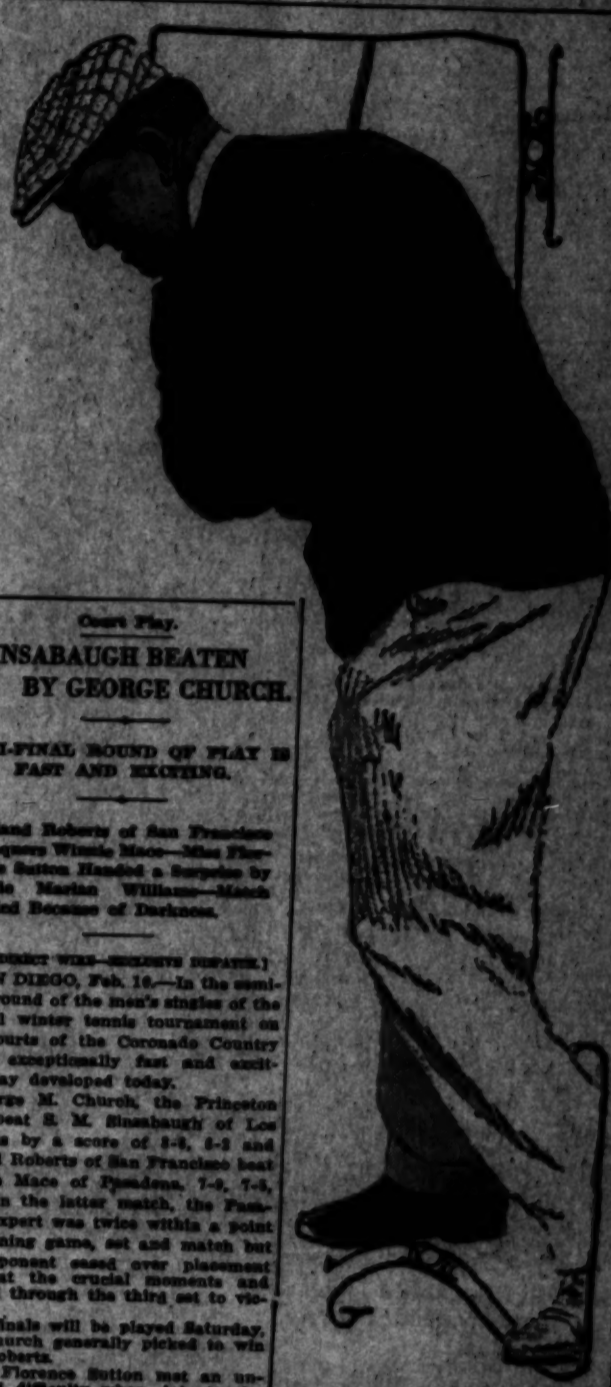

They talk at great length about the call of the sea, the call of the west and the south. It has given many an author the pathetic touch that has made his work a masterpiece. But it isn't only the sea that calls back its own, nor the desert that lures the old prospector back to die. There is also the call of the track, the ring, the diamond, and what not.

And now it's old Waldo Throop and Jim Donahue that come back to try again. Tomorrow Throop will run against youngsters that once climbed through the fence to see him and worshipped him then like an idol. And lined up against Jim Donahue will be those who once tried to walk like him, he was so great to them.

"PERHAPS." What the comeback will be like is for tomorrow to see. Perhaps Throop will again leap into the tape a winner. Perhaps Jim Donahue will clear the last hurdle again far in the lead as he once did. Or perhaps Throop will stagger along pace in the lead of the heels of young high school youths. Perhaps Donahue will get all tangled up in the hurst of the run.

Throop's career on the cinders was meteoric anyway. Suddenly he came up from nowhere at Polk. The next year he fairly burned up the cinders at U.R.C. Nobody could touch him. Two years he was unbeatable, then he slipped down amid the also rans.

It will certainly give the old-timers something to think about no matter how Throop or Donahue finish tomorrow. It's a story if they never finish.

A. M. Goodhue.

Golf hero of the Virginia Club, who will positively be among those present in the big tourney tomorrow.

VIRGINIA TOURNEY BEGINS TOMORROW.

AT LEAST A HUNDRED EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE.

Many Fifteen Shots Required to Make the Course—Lake Hole Calculated in Course Most Complicated of Mountaineering—Tennis and Sun Golf Clubs Play Also.

THE VIRGINIA Country Club caters to at least a hundred entries for their invitation tournament which opens tomorrow morning with a 36-hole competition.

There have been many improvements in the course since last year and the rains have not had any adverse effect.

No. 1, 491 yards long, is still protected with the telephone wire and the bunkers have been slightly raised. At present it takes two good wooden shots to carry the bunkers and much depends on the luck of the breeze. No. 2 has a few additional impediments, and No. 3 has a new trap for hooked drives.

No. 4, 180 yards, remains the same and the fifth has new bunkers to penalize hooks, slices going into the trees for their sins, on the second shot.

There are "new traps" at the 8th, and at the 10th they have raised the bank. The homeward nine, on the coast side of the course, have all been made more perilous, with traps on either side of most of the greens to penalize any but the most straight-faced drives.

GOTCH PEEVED AT PROMOTERS.

Frank Gotch is very much peeved at a couple of promoters in San Francisco. He signed up to meet Samual in the northern city on February 12, and the promoters' representatives are showing each other to get the contract.

Gotch states that he does not know who will stage the bout, but will call off all former negotiations if there is to be any wrangling. The champ states that whoever lands the match will have to show him a signed contract with Samual.

HILLTOPPERS MAKE A SAN DIEGO DATE.

L. A. High will travel to San Diego on May 6 to meet some baseball nine of that city, according to announcement made yesterday.

One week from Saturday the Hilltoppers meet Vanis High at Venice. The beach boys are strong this year and this game should be a lively one.

FRANK CHANCE A SKINNED AND SCRAPED BASEBALLER.

Peerless Leader Bears Numerous Marks from His Diamond Experience—Estimated that He has Lost Several Acres of Skin in Sliding—Even Gores Own Legs While Running the Bases.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

FRANK CHANCE, among other distinctions, enjoys that of being the most banged-up player in the game of baseball. The P. L. is nearly unrecognizable with the trademark of his position, the catcher's mitt, which he has lost several times. The general public has been witness to numerous occasions when the hero of the home team has been wounded by the hand of his own bat or the glove of some gangling member of the opposition. His head has been hit by the "foul" ball and the most of his skin has been scraped off. Nothing, it seems, is too good for him.

STRIPPED.

It is estimated that the total area of skin which he has lost is about the size of a football field. In fact, he has lost so much skin that he has to wear a special suit made of rubber to protect him from the elements. He has also lost a great deal of his hair, and is now balding on top. His face is covered in scars and bruises, and his body is a map of his diamond experiences.

MARKED.

While the old catcher of the Chicago Cubs, who has been playing for many years, has been a steady performer, Frank Chance has been a real show-off. He has been in the news a great deal for his antics on the field. He has been seen sliding into bases, and he has been seen hitting his own teammates. He has been seen doing everything but playing baseball.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

At the City Hall.
CITY ATTORNEY TO HANDLE GAS CASE.COUNCIL REFUSES TO PROVIDE FOR SPECIAL COUNCIL.

Request of Public Utilities Board for Authority to Engage Outside Talent is Denied Unless Legal Department Decides that it is Needed.

The request of the Public Utilities Board for authority to engage its own attorney to represent the city in the gas rate hearing before the State Railroad Commission was denied by the Council yesterday and, so far as the City Council is concerned, the legal end of the hearing will be looked after by City Attorney Stephens and his department. The public service department insisted, however, that it cannot spare W. B. Hinton, who is now working on the Edison condemnation suit, and City Attorney Stephens decided that he will personally handle the gas case for the city.

The entire situation was discussed yesterday at a conference between President Lane of the Utilities Board, City Attorney Stephens and members of the Council, including the Finance Committee, and Attorney Stephens convinced the members of the Council that by his plan for the hearing of himself the city will save $2000 to $3000, which would be required if the plan of the Utilities Board is adopted. City Attorney Stephens said his attitude on the subject is simply in line with his policy of keeping all of the city's legal business within the proper department. "I am opposed to special legal service in any city department and propose to keep the work where it belongs," said Attorney Stephens. "When I came in office the harbor and the water departments had their own separate legal departments. Since then I have designated two special deputies to handle this business, and it has been taken care of in proper manner. In the gas case, the question will not be settled in the coming hearing, and I propose to keep in touch with it directly all through."

President Lane said he was assured by City Attorney Stephens that he will agree to the appointment of a special deputy attorney for the hearing. The plan agreed upon, according to President Lane, is for Attorney Stephens to name the deputy who shall look after the Utilities Board legal matters, and the salary will be provided from the Utilities Board budget. If this arrangement is carried out, it will be satisfactory to the Utilities Board, President Lane said.

CITY SALARIES.

PLAN TO EVEN THINGS UP.

The complete standardization of salaries in all city departments will be urged again on the Council and the Budget Committee by the Efficiency Commission before the next budget is made up, and the first move will be to present an ordinance to classify all branches of city service. This question was discussed by the Efficiency Commission yesterday and final action was deferred to give individual members of the commission an opportunity to investigate certain details before the ordinance is presented. After the Council passes on the ordinance classifying all branches of service, the work of the Budget Committee will be simplified by simply establishing a basis of first, second and third-year salaries for each classification. At the present time city salaries range from $40 to $180 a month for practically identical clerical and stenographic work, and many city salaries are largely based on the title that goes with the position, rather than the requirements of the job.

Thomas Hughes and Councilman Wheeler reported to the commission on their recent investigations of the city's methods of testing asphalt and other paving material.

ANOTHER COMMISSION.

TO USE VACANT LOTS.

Creation of another municipal commission is proposed in a letter addressed to the Council yesterday by the Los Angeles Committee, which now believes it should receive official recognition by the city government and, incidentally, says it needs a salaried director and secretary. The committee informs the Council that since it was appointed by Mayor Sebastian it has been engaged in devising a general scheme for transforming the vacant lots of the city into flower and vegetable gardens. It proposes that the commission be created with seven members who shall elect one member its president and another member director and shall appoint from civil service a secretary, the secretary and director to receive such salaries as the Council may determine.

The Council is informed that the water department has agreed to furnish water for vacant lot gardens at 3 cents a hundred cubic feet and it asks for an ordinance fixing this rate for the purpose named and providing for water connections on a basis whereby the water department will be reimbursed for the expense when the individual lots are connected and improved.

PROTESTS FILED.

ON FIRST STREET PLAN.

Protestants against the widening of First street from Rampart to Vermont appeared before the Public Works Committee of the Council yesterday and before the Council yesterday. The plans now being considered call for widening First street from the Bunker Hill open cut, which will make First street 100 feet wide instead of fifty-eight feet as at present. In view of the movement for the Bunker Hill open cut, the widening of First street to the entire northwest, it is likely that an effort will be made to include the widening of the street in the widening proceedings, despite the apparent majority of protestants in that part of First street between Rampart and Vermont.

COUNCIL PETITIONS.

KEEP THE BONDS AT HOME.

Sale of the $1,625,000 Hollywood water bonds drawn by the people of Los Angeles in $100 lots is advocated by the East Jefferson Street Improvement Association in a letter filed with the City Council yesterday. The association urges the Council to provide that the bonds shall first be taken over by the city reserve fund which is now drawn by the city interest, and later sold to the public as the city needs the money. The bonds which bear interest at 6 per cent, find a ready market from local investors.

A similar petition was filed with the Council yesterday by the South Park Improvement Association.

City Hall Pickups.

The Council received a petition yesterday asking for an adequate storm drain system to cover the entire San Fernando district. City Engineer Hamlin was asked to consider the petition and present recommendations to the Council. Canvass of the votes cast in the Owensmouth election last Saturday was completed in about three minutes by the City Council yesterday. There were thirty-nine votes cast and of these four were against annexation. The city will vote on the question at the charter election to be held June 6, next.

Members of the City Council will leave for San Pedro immediately after this morning's session and they will meet citizens of the harbor district at the San Pedro City Hall to discuss various street improvement projects contemplated in the harbor district.

SWALLOWS POISON.

Following a quarrel with her husband, Mrs. Florence Lustig, 36 years of age, of No. 418 East Adams street, early Wednesday night attempted to rush to the Receiving Hospital, Mrs. Lustig was treated by Dr. Johnson and later removed to her home. She will recover.

WANTED IN MUSKOGEE.

Arthur Kirkpatrick, who is wanted at Muskogee, Okla., on the charge of selling liquor to Indians on a reservation near that city, was brought up from El Centro yesterday, where he was arrested, and lodged in the County Jail. Kirkpatrick is alleged to have been in the Muskogee jail where he was confined on a State charge, by knocking down the jailer.

At the Courthouse.
THREE WIN SOLACE
FOR THEIR HURTS.HEAVY DAMAGES AWARDED IN A VARIETY OF CAUSES.

Jury Composed Largely of Automobile Owners Vote Verdict for Woman Injured by a Machine. Pomona Barber is Victorious in Malicious Prosecution Case.

Plaintiffs in three suits scored heavily yesterday. Verdicts in three courts netted approximately $25,500 in damages. Two suits grew out of automobile accidents, and one was for malicious prosecution.

ON FIRST STREET PLAN.

In Judge Myers' court, Lloyd R. Clark, a Pomona grocer, was awarded $15,000 damages against the Southern California Edison Company for injuries sustained when his motorcycle collided with one of the corporation's automobiles. He won the verdict, although it was shown that he was on the wrong side of the street when the accident happened, at Alvarado and Park streets, on the night of October 10, 1914. Mr. Clark declared he took the wrong side of the street when the car turned from Alvarado into Park street, thus hoping to avoid a collision.

Mrs. Amy Pemberton won a verdict of $8000 in Judge Hausen's court against Edward Arroy of Long Beach and North Dakota. There were nine auto owners on the jury. The evidence showed that Mrs. Pemberton was struck while she was on her way to the Brown-Curry evangelistic meeting in Long Beach. Attorney Carpenter showed that Mrs. Pemberton had spent $1200 for medical attention.

F. W. Cheney was awarded $1500 by a jury in Judge Hausen's court against W. R. Davis, for alleged malicious prosecution. The suit followed the arrest of Mr. Cheney, a Covina barber, who was charged with the larceny of a piece of lead pipe. The lead pipe case was dismissed in the justice's court. The jury allowed $1000 punitive and $500 actual damages.

WILD ANIMALS.

LIKE A JUNGLE TALE.

The peaceful precincts of Judge Wellborn's court yesterday were attuned not to the prosaic, cut-and-dry legal verbiage of lawyers, but to the raucous cries of wild beasts. The animals were there only in theory, but for the purposes of the suit on trial it was necessary to inform the jury the volume and loudness of the cries. The charges were brought by Dorothy Miller against Al G. Barnes, to enjoin him from housing his manager in the old Venice shoe factory.

Mr. Barnes sought to show that the noise of passing trolley cars is more annoying than the purring of his circus animals. But Mr. Miller declared there was one animal among the collection that made an outcry like the sound of the Venice fire whistle. Another animal sounded like a bus-saw going through a knot.

The cries of the wild beasts so annoyed Mrs. Miller, her husband testified, that it was difficult to keep her at home. One night, he said, she started out of sleeping, crying, "They are after me." The case will be concluded today.

IN PARENTS' PLACE.

MOTHER LOSES RIGHT.

Judge Taft granted a nonsuit in the $1000 damage action brought by Denver Treadway, 8 years old, by his mother, Leah Treadway, as guardian, against Anna Gritton of Eagle Rock, and R. B. Berry, yesterday. The evidence showed that at the time of the accident Mrs. Gritton had charge of the boy, who was held in the lap of another person in the former's auto. The auto of Mr. Berry collided with Mrs. Gritton's machine, breaking the windshield. The broken glass struck the boy on the forehead, causing a wound which was dressed at the Receiving Hospital and later by a physician.

The mother was informed of the accident several days later, and brought suit. The court held that as the boy had been left in Mrs. Gritton's charge, she stood in the relationship of a parent, and that a suit for damages, if any, should have been brought by Mrs. Gritton.

CHILDREN GUARDED.

PARENTS MAY SEE THEM.

Judge Shenk disposed of the Hummel divorce suit yesterday by granting Mrs. Hummel separate maintenance for the children, and giving a decree of divorce to John J. Hummel, on the ground of desertion. The case dealt with the marriage of a girl born in Alaska, who in 1914 came to Canada and was married to a contractor before she could speak English.

Events developed which caused a temporary separation, but later the young couple came together again, only to result in Mrs. Hummel leaving for the children, and coming to Los Angeles. Mrs. Hummel followed, and alleged that he was in the company of another woman, and that she had been charged with charges of misconduct.

Judge Shenk ordered that the daughter, Alice, an attractive girl of 13, be placed in the Park School for Girls, and that the boys, Rennie, 11, and Norval, 8, be educated at the Page Military Academy. Mr. Hummel was ordered to pay $25 a month for the girl, and $35 a month for the boys. Mrs. Hummel to provide their clothing. The parents may visit their children, but the latter cannot be taken out of the jurisdiction of the court.

CHOCOLATE DROPS.

TWINS ATTACK THEM.

A therry sign-painters' war found its way into Judge Works' court. Involved are Ghirardelli's chocolates and the Gold Dust Twins. The question to be decided was whether the Ghirardelli company should have an injunction restraining T. H. B. Varney from interfering with the chocolate sign painters. The war had extended over many days and a number of billboards. First passersby would notice a hand-drawn sign, and then the Ghirardelli sign. The next day the billboard blazoned the Gold Dust Twins. The third day the twins would disappear under a coat of paint, and it would be chocolate.

The Ghirardelli Company claimed it had the exclusive right to use the chocolate sign. T. H. B. Varney claimed the right rested in himself. The legal action stopped the war temporarily. Yesterday when the case was called, it was announced that the parties had agreed on a compromise. It was stipulated that the chocolate company might take an injunction as to seven billboards, the twins to keep their faces off. Judgment was given in accordance with the stipulation.

STORM DRAIN.

PROTEST TOO LATE.

Hollywood property owners who sought to declare that the Hollywood and Sunset boulevard storm drain did not do the work for which it was contemplated and that it was of no benefit to any of the people in that district lost their contention yesterday, when Judge Works granted a nonsuit on the motion of the attorneys representing the City Treasurer.

Judge Works held that the plaintiffs had had their day in court before the City Council and could not go back of the ruling that body. The bonds covering the cost of the storm drain in the district approximate $162,000. The proceeding decided was an injunction suit restraining the sale of the bonds.

DENIES JEALOUSY.

WIFE WINS DECREE.

"To show he was not jealous, my husband said he was going to invite his rival to visit our home," said Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, in Judge Jackson's court, yesterday, in divorce proceedings against John W. Scott.

Bert Miller, the alleged rival, told the court that Mr. Scott met him and advised him he was not jealous, continued:

"You can come to the house any time you like."

Mr. Miller said he did not know what to think of this statement. At first he said he was inclined to hit Mr. Scott, but thought better of it. "I never had anything to do with him after that," he declared.

SPOT WON'T OUT.

OWNER WINS DAMAGES.

H. A. Getz, owner of a store building, was surprised one day to learn that the wall of the building contained a chocolate advertisement twenty by thirty feet in size. He knew that he had not given permission or received any pay for the space, and discovered that a tenant had authorized it.

Mr. Getz brought suit against Arthur G. Potter, agent for the Ghirardelli Company, and also named the company a defendant. Yesterday Judge Works gave him judgment for $500, holding that the building was damaged to that extent, and that the sign had been put on without proper authorization.

UNCLAIMED RELICS.

PRESENTS TO MUSEUM.

Among the relics stored by Public Administrator Bryson, recovered from the effects of unidentified persons, is a spelling book published by Noah Webster in 1820. The book is bound in sheepskin and wood, and Mr. Bryson turned it over to the Exposition Park authorities for the benefit of the museum.

Mr. Bryson will also present the museum with a grant deed to 223 acres "near the Indian Reservation in Ohio," made out to Lieut. Stephen Lewis, for services in the war of 1812. It was never possible to trace the ownership of this deed or any heirs who might lay claim to it.

HIS WISH GRANTED.

SAN QUENTIN FOLLOWS.

"Look me over carefully before you sentence me," suggested Harold R. Barnett, in his plea by letter to Judge Craig yesterday.

Charged with the forgery of a check against the D. J. Desmond Company, Barnett pleaded guilty several days ago, and asked for leniency. It was discovered that Barnett was on parole from the Washington State Reformatory, where he was sentenced to five years for a similar crime.

"You look fine, but your acts belie your appearance," said Judge Craig, when the young man was brought into the courtroom. "About two and a half years in San Quentin may make your conduct as pleasing as your looks."

CHILSON ESTATE.

WIDOW INHERITS ALL.

In a brief will filed for probate yesterday, Henry G. Chilson gives his estate, valued at $11,500, to his wife, Mabel D. Chilson, who is named executrix. The property consists of cash, notes, contracts to purchase land, a ranch in Imperial Valley and land at Oceanside.

HOW IT ENDED.

Widow Wins Damages.

The elopement of Winifred May Dixon with John Dixon in March, 1910, ended sadly. The young wife testified in Judge Jackson's court yesterday in her divorce suit that Mr. Dixon stayed out late at night; sometimes all night; and that she saw him take other girls for joyrides on his motorcycle. When she remonstrated he told her to mind her business and called her a fool. When he stayed away for two weeks, the break was final. She went home to mother. The decree was granted.

FINAL CHAPTER.

Judge Houses.

Yesterday discharged the administrators of the estate of the late Frank H. Holyoke, wealthy Maine lumberman, their duties having been completed. This marks the last chapter in the sensational litigation following the death of Mr. Holyoke, resulting in a jury breaking his will which was made in favor of two nieces. Subsequently the matter was adjusted, the $500,000 estate being divided among the sons, widow and nieces, after deducting bequests to a number of institutions in New England.

TREE-CUTTING CASE.

Judge Works.

Yesterday sustained the demurrer of the Hellman estate to the amended complaint of the county in the action to enjoin the Hellmans from cutting down shade trees in Alhambra and Garvey streets, and issued a temporary injunction, pending the appeal of the county to the Supreme Court. This closed the case which resulted in the county holding that a part of the county forestry act is unconstitutional, in that the shade trees in the street were the property of the Hellmans, the public having the right to use the street.
